

PROGRAMME OF EVENTS 2010

4 September 2010 – North Suffolk Farmhouses

Yaxley Manor House

The Glebe

Elm Tree Farm

Mid Suffolk SPS invite you to view two outstanding, 15th century farmhouses in North Suffolk. Yaxley Manor House and Elm Tree Farmhouse are set around Mellis Common, the largest common in Suffolk. Both grade II* properties have particularly fine interiors and have never been open to SPS or SHBG members before.

The renowned architectural historian, Philip Aitken, has kindly agreed to provide guided tours of both properties. The tours will be followed by a traditional cream tea in the Director's garden at The Glebe.

Please arrive by 2pm and park on the road at the Mellis Primary School (Yaxley Road), where you will be met and accompanied to the first property. Numbers are limited, and the ticket price is £12. All booking enquiries should be made to The Suffolk Preservation Society, 01787 247 179, or e-mail sps@suffolksociety.org. The event is open to members of the Suffolk Historic Buildings Group.

14 October 2010 - Conference - The Greening of Historic Buildings, Improving efficiency without compromising character. Day conference for owners and building professionals

A distinguished expert panel can help you find the right solution including English Heritage, SPAB & The Energy Saving Trust A thorough, independent review of renewable technologies, their application and grants available to help reduce the carbon footprint of traditional buildings.
